Science Societies

Call for nominations: Corn Belt editor for Crops & Soils Magazine

July 24, 2020

Are you passionate about serving the practicing professional community and getting the best research-based practices down to the farm level? Do you work in the Corn Belt region? If so, Crops & Soils magazine wants to talk to you!

Crops & Soils magazine is published by ASA and distributed to more than 16,000 readers, most of which are Certified Crop Advisers (CCAs). By serving as an Editor for this magazine, you could have a huge potential impact on acres across North America as ASA estimates that 60% of all production ag acres in the U.S. are influenced directly or indirectly by CCAs.

Position Details

- The editorial board consists of ASA members as well as CCAs. Each board member represents a region. The position is appointed by the ASA president for a three-year term, with eligibility for reappointment to subsequent three-year terms.
- Board members are expected to provide five or six stories or story ideas each year for the magazine.
- Board members can either recruit colleagues to write (preferred) or they can also ask the magazine staff to write an article.
- Time commitment is much less than serving on a journal board.

How to Apply

If you or someone you know is interested in this position, email Send Message. Please include a paragraph or two in the email about your interest and qualifications. Nominations are due 1 Oct. 2020.

More news & perspectives

Back to issue

Back to home

Text © . The authors. CC BY-NC-ND 4.0. Except where otherwise noted, images are subject to copyright. Any reuse without express permission from the copyright owner is prohibited.