New York Inspiration! Soil Painting & Stunning Views in the Finger Lakes

SSSA member Kirsten Kurtz was recently featured on PBS's This American Land for her unique work combining art and science through soil pigments. Kurtz is an internationally recognized soil artist and soil scientist who will be leading a soil painting workshop at CANVAS this year on Tuesday (November 3) and Wednesday (November 4) in the exhibit hall from 11 am to 4 pm.

View the video above to see how the Cornell Soil Health Lab assistant director uses art to promote soil health. Then catch her live at CANVAS and take advantage of this opportunity to create your own soil painting!
