Join us on April 2, 2025 at 11 am Central for the webinar, "Why Certifications Matter: Bridging Theory and Practice Through Applied Science." This is the third webinar in a four-part series aimed at supporting your leadership skills and professional development.

Certifications play a critical role in connecting scientific knowledge with practical applications in agriculture and environmental science. This webinar features three certified professionals, Aaron DeJoia, Wale Adewunmi, and Clay Robinson, who highlight the value of certifications in advancing careers, fostering ongoing education, and driving impact in areas like soil health and water quality. Real-world success stories will be explored and you'll leave with an understanding of how certifications equip professionals with the tools to address pressing challenges.
